Three New Commissioners Elected to Orange County Superior Court

Santa Ana - The judges of the Orange County Superior Court have elected Max De Liema, Craig Arthur and Glenn Mondo to the position of Superior Court Commissioner, announced Chief Executive Officer Alan Slater. The new commissioners will begin their work with the Court on September 6, 2005

Craig E. Arthur has extensive experience in juvenile court. For the past three years, he was in private practice where he handled dependency appeals in the Second and Fourth Appellate Districts. He also worked for more than 12 years for the Law Office of Harold LaFlamme, whose firm is frequently appointed by the court to represent abused, abandoned and neglected children in the dependency system. Mr. Arthur has also worked as a Deputy Public Defender for the County of Orange. He received a law degree from Western State University, College of Law and a bachelor of arts degree from California State University, Long Beach.

Max De Liema was in private practice for the past 27 years where he specialized in criminal law. He has worked for the County of Orange as a Deputy Public Defender from 1975 to 1978. He has also served as a court-appointed attorney since 1978. He currently serves as the attorney representative to the Traffic Advisory Committee of the Judicial Council and is an attorney representative to the Orange County Volunteer Center's Court Referral Advisory Committee. Mr. De Liema received a law degree from Loyola University Law School and a bachelor of arts degree from the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Glenn Mondo was in private practice for the past 21 years and is a partner in the law firm of Weule, Ballard & Mondo, LLP specializing in business and real estate litigation. He is active in the Santa Ana community, where is a member of the Santa Ana Planning Commission and serves on the Board of Trustees for the Orange County High School of the Arts. Mr. Mondo received a law degree from Loyola University Law School, where he was Editor of the Loyola Law Review and a member of the Dean's List. He received two bachelor of arts degrees from the University of California, Irvine.
